

It was just one of those bad days. I woke up and I had no clean clothes and my hair was all tangled.

As I am finding some slightly worn clothes I hear my mom say "Taryn Hurry up the bus is coming in ten minutes." Then I thought to myself no I was sleeping through my alarm. I am running down the stairs trying to brush my hair and get all my stuff together. Last night I was out late at my friend Hailey's house and did not get back until 11:00. My mom really likes to talk. Anyway I just went to bed and watched some tik tok then went to sleep.

I was trying to make some toast when it is finally done and pops out of the toaster and my older and annoying brother graded it and eats it then runs out of the door. I decided who needed the most important meal of the day, and ran outside to see I missed the bus and forgot a mask. I run back inside and grab a mask and start running to school. I already knew my mom had to go to work on the other side of town and did not have time to drive me so I saved some time and just started running to school.

Some good news is my school is not too far away from my house at least I thought. I was still running trying to make it before the first bell, when it started raining. Then she keeps on running and what she doesn't know is she has a hole in her backpack where her phone is and it is letting water come in. Why is my bag getting heavier and heavier? She asked herself.

Finally she gets to school on time with 5 minutes into class but she has to rush to her locker which is on one side of the building then go to the yearbook. Then she ran through the door and her best friend Hailey was waiting by her locker and was on her phone.

Taryn gets to her locker.” Where have you been, I have been waiting for you and have you read any of my text? What happened to you and why are you wet?”

Taryn then tells her everything that has happened to her. Why I was talking to Hailey I was trying to open my locker and I had trouble so Hailey just opened my locker for me. I got my stuff and started running to class and got there right at the last bell. And I looked down and saw I left my ID and had to pay and get a new one. Then after the yearbook which I just slept through I had to go to GYM. My favorite class!

Then I go all the way back to my locker and I am tired and a little stressed. I am trying to open my locker and I keep resetting it but it will just not open and I need my gym shirt. If I don't wear my gym shirt I will get a F in my responsibility grade because I already forgot my gym shirt 3 times. I am looking at the clock trying to get my little old locker open but it will not open. I finally set my books down and bang on my locker to try to get it open. At this point I am so mad and just want this terrible day to be over, but what I did know is this is not the worst thing that is going to happen to me today. I am still trying to open my locker. The bad news is Hailey is already in class. I kept banging and banging on my locker then I got over it. I went to class without my gym shirt.

Then I walked to the gym; fortunately, it was close to my locker so I was not late but I walked it and saw someone I did not want to see. We had a sub and you think that we have the worst sub he would yell if you got one thing wrong. I had to do the best at whatever we are doing at the gym because I really do not want to be yelled at today.

“Hello Class. I am Mr. Yoder. Today You are going to do a workout. I will tell you to do something and you will listen.” Mr. Yoder said.

I got a little scared then he yelled, "Ready 25 jumping jacks."

When we finished that he said, "25 crunches 25 push ups 25 squats 25 high knees then lastly 25 laps around the gym." When gym class was over I was ready for the day to be over. I was so tired and wearing a mask in the gym is not fun. At least it was lunch time.

For lunch today it was my favorite hamburgers. I got in line ,socially distant, and waited to get my food. I was so hungry you could hear my stomach roar.

I finally got my food and gave them my idea to scan and then the lady looked at me and said, "Oh I am so sorry you don't have any money in your account do you have any money here with you to give me"

I looked in my pockets and I had nothing." No, I left my money at home." I told the lunch lady.

"Well I am so sorry but you can not have lunch today." She told me so she took my tray and I set back down. Hailey was sitting next to me and gave me some of her lunch so I was not so hungry. Then the bell rang and I got up to go to my next class then I was on my phone not looking and some kid bumped in to me a spilled his milk all over my mask I ran to the bath strait away and wash it but it was still dirt so I had to go the rest of the day with a mask that smelled like milk. When I finished school I ran out to find my dad. And he was not there so I just waited and an hour had passed and I finally saw some people come out of the building. There were a lot of girls from my grade. I asked what they were doing and they were trying out for the basketball team. I forgot to go and try out and now it is over. I thought to myself this day is really horrible.
