

“AHAHAHAHA no way the truck is STUCK in the TREE!”

“AHAHAHAH I can’t believe this. It is stuck. AHAHAHHA!”

“Oh my god it’s in there. It’s stuck in the tree. I’m surprised the tree didn’t break or even get scratched.” (You are probably wondering how this happened. Well, sit tight my friend and let me tell you the beginning of this story.)

Me, (Lucas) and my friends John and Mark, and my older brother Marcus were all chilling at my house when John got a crazy idea to do an insane stunt for youtube. Now, you see, I have a youtube channel where I do crazy and dumb stuff and currently have 8.40 million subscribers. I’m doing pretty good also. Youtube’s my job and Marcus has one too with 3.77 thousand subscribers, not as much as me but still impressive. And John wants to launch a truck into the air and possibly get it in a tree for view.

“Yeah sure why not,” says Marcus.

“Yeah I’m ok with it,” says Mark.

“It would be a good video, sure,” I say. “Ok come, guys, we’re gonna have to go to the store and buy supplies-”

“And some food” blurts Marcus.

“Yeah” Mark agrees.

(As we get into the car and start driving we come across three fast-food restaurants: McDonald’s, Wendys, and Hardee’s. We all get into a little argument on which to go to. Luckily, no one wanted Hardee's. And we eventually get McDonald's and Wendys. I got something from both)

Alright now that we're all full and ready let's go ...
